Fair was fully anticipated, and excited no surpfise. An order for a special venire of 200 jurors, returnable on the 24th inst., is already in the hands of officers, and it is believed that not much difficulty will be found in getting a jury. The chance of getting one is certainly better than it could be in any county with a comparatively small population. Judge Dwinelle was evidently anxious to avoid trying the case a second time, if possible.
